

VENUE MANAGER – THE EGG

The Egg, Theatre Royal Bath

Dear Applicant,

Thank you for your interest in this role. We are delighted to be recruiting for this key position within The Egg Theatre: a vibrant, established hub for children and young people, home to performances, a thriving Theatre School, and a Level 3 Performing Arts course.

As we continue to grow, we are looking for an experienced, calm, and highly organised Venue Manager to join our team.

This role requires a practical person who is confident in running a busy venue with multiple activities happening simultaneously, and who can support a broad community of users, with children, young people, families and caregivers at its heart. You will be based at The Egg's reception desk – the first point of contact for the building – ensuring all visitors, artists, partners and participants are welcomed warmly, with their needs swiftly identified and met.

You will be a collaborative member of the team, yet able to thrive working alone at the Egg's front desk, in a space that is often noisy and busy.

We are looking for a Venue Manager who believes deeply in The Egg as a space open to everyone, and who is fully abreast of access and inclusion issues, particularly as these relate to children and the adults who accompany them. You will bring a creative, practical and outcome-focused approach to problem solving, and be confident balancing warmth with authority in a public-facing role.

What follows is a job description that forms the basic structure of your role; one that will, over time, evolve to embrace your ideas, strengths and unique dispositions.

At the Theatre Royal Bath, we are committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive workforce and we strive for equity in our recruitment and employment practices. In order to inspire and engage more people from diverse backgrounds, we are endeavouring to actively work to address the barriers they face. We are therefore taking the 'positive action' of offering an interview to all global majority applicants who meet the 'Essential Criteria' on the job description for this post. Any final appointments will be made on merit.

We are happy to make reasonable adjustments to help applicants feel more confident throughout the process. Please don't hesitate to let us know how we can help.

Theatre Royal Bath

Venue Manager – The Egg

Background to the Theatre Royal Bath

The Theatre Royal Bath is one of the oldest continually working theatres in the country, having originally opened in 1805. A Grade II* listed building, it is described by the Theatres Trust as "One of the most important surviving examples of Georgian theatre architecture".

The Theatre Royal Bath comprises three auditoria – the historic Main House, the innovative Ustinov Studio and the Egg Theatre – which between them programme the best of UK touring and international theatre; many productions either prior to or direct from the West End, a mix of drama, comedy, ballet, opera and musical theatre and dedicated work for children and families throughout the year.

Theatre Royal Bath is a registered charity with a charitable purpose to provide high quality entertainment and creative learning opportunities for the community. Regular visitors to the Main House include West End transfers from companies including the National Theatre, The Royal Shakespeare Company, Mischief Theatre (The Play That Goes Wrong) and touring companies including English Touring Opera, Rambert Dance and much-loved and award-winning UK and international actors. The Main House also hosts one-night events ranging from stand-up comedy with leading comedians to illustrated talks and music events.

Since 2011, under the direction of first Laurence Boswell, and more recently the internationally acclaimed and multi-award-winning opera and theatre director Deborah Warner, the 120 seat Ustinov Studio has transformed to an internationally acclaimed venue for innovative, creative theatre and performance including dance and opera with numerous productions transferring from the Ustinov Studio to the West End. These are presented alongside a continuing programme of high-quality small-scale touring theatre.

The Egg is one of the country's most established theatres dedicated to children and young people. Since opening in 2005, it has presented over 900 plays, programming 60 different professional productions each year for audiences aged 0-18, hosting hundreds of theatre companies and introducing thousands of young people to live theatre. The Egg team works with many organisations to extend the role that arts and cultural venues play in young people's lives, and fosters careers in the arts through: a partnership with Bath College (Bath Theatre Academy); apprenticeships; a Youth Theatre for ages 5-25; creative participation for 25+ and strong links with Bath Spa University, amongst many other projects.

Plans are underway to open a new community-oriented venue, provisionally titled Venue 4, within the existing Theatre Royal Bath footprint.

Theatre Royal Bath Productions is the theatre's producing arm and has become one of the country's most prolific producers and co-producers with productions touring nationally and regularly transferring to the West End and overseas.
